Introduction

Welcome to the uTax TY2021 1040 Software Tutorial.

The TY2021 1040 Software Tutorial provides for you an understanding of the basic steps necessary to complete and electronically file a tax return. This tutorial covers the most frequently used features of the 1040 Software which are categorized into seven chapters along with additional appendices.

These chapters may be used as a tutorial by an individual at a computer or by an instructor for hands-on training in a classroom setting. Additional training resources, including videos, recorded webinars and short, step-by-step Here's How To documents, are available at the uTax Resource Center.

It is not necessary to complete the chapters at once all consecutively; rather, you may pause and resume at a later point. This may be arranged since each chapter is designed distinctively from one another to adjust the training to meet your needs, or the needs of your tax operation.

Chapter 2 – Preparing a Basic Return

Introduction

The 1040 Software utilizes the forms-based method for the preparation of tax returns. In the forms-based method, returns are prepared by adding the required electronic forms and worksheets. However, based on information you have provided about your taxpayer, the 1040 Software may also automatically append forms and worksheets to the return.

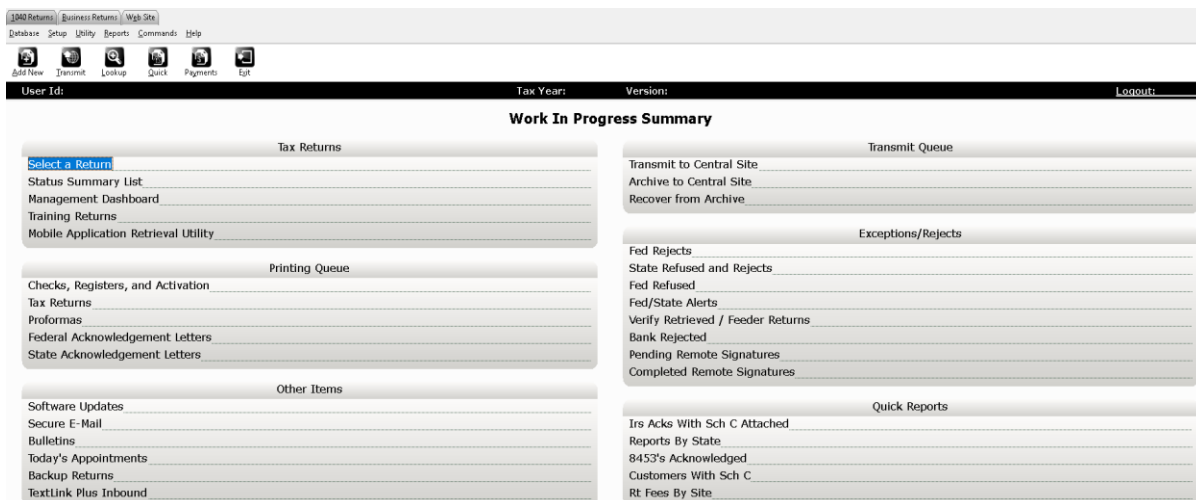

In this chapter, you will learn to:

- Use the 1040 Software to prepare a basic 1040 return with Earned Income Credit (EIC) as well as Child Tax Credit (CTC) for a Head of Household taxpayer with one dependent child. To prepare a more complex return using the 1040 Software, see Chapter 3.
- Prepare a state tax return by using the information entered on the federal return to automatically complete the state return.
- Use Bookmarks and Preparer Notes to add comments or reminders to a return.
- Navigate in the 1040 Software using screen buttons, keystroke shortcuts, menus, and right-click mouse menus.
- Verify a return and fix errors using Point-and-Shoot Error Correction.

Step 6: Add Bookmarks and/or Preparer Notes

Bookmarks allow you to easily attach a comment to any data field on a tax form. A Bookmark is the electronic equivalent of a yellow sticky note and is a great way to identify fields that require reminders or to bookmark fields for further review later. Bookmarks are for your use only and appear during return verification, prompting you to pay extra attention to the bookmarked field. They do not transmit to the IRS when the return is electronically filed.

Follow the instructions provided below to add a Bookmark to a field:

1. Click the (A) Client Data worksheet in the Attached Forms list, right click the (B) E-Mail field and select (C) Bookmarks from the right click menu. The Bookmark Field window will appear.

Step 8: Verify the Return

Before you file a tax return, run Verify to check for completeness and correctness. You can review your overrides and bookmarks, as well as find and correct any errors in the return. In addition, “Verify” runs numerous Electronic Filing checks to find errors that could prevent the return from being filed electronically.

Any changes or updates you make to a tax return after you’ve used Verify may affect other items in the return. Make sure to go through Verify again before you file the return electronically to verify that changes or updates did not introduce any new errors.

To verify the return:

1. Click the Verify button on the Toolbar or press Ctrl + V. The 1040 Software reviews the return for errors, omissions, bookmarks, and overrides. When review is complete, the Return Errors and Rejects window appears.

After you have selected an option from the Print menu the Print Window will display. This window contains options such as how, and to which printer the selected item will be printed. The Print Window also includes several additional features such as print preview, electronic return signatures and creation of PDF copies of the return.

Name

The Name drop down allows you to specify which printer the 1040 Software uses to print the selected item. By default, the printer that is configured in Printer Setup will be selected.

Copies

Enter the desired number of copies of the selected item- the default number of copies is "one."

Print

The Print button prints the desired number of copies of the selected item using the specified printer.

SignDoc

The Sign Doc button initiates the electronic signing process if signing with a supported electronic signature pad or on-screen signature.

Note: An electronic signature pad is a device with a touch sensitive LCD screen which allows the user to capture and convert a signature into an electronic format.

The 1040 Software supports seven electronic signature pad models:

Topaz SigLite™ 1x5 T-S460
Topaz SigLite™ 1x5 T-S461
Topaz SigLite™ LCD 1x5 TL460

Scriptel Slimline SC-ST1475
Scriptel Slimline LCD SC-ST1570
Scriptel Compact LCD SC-ST1550
Scriptel Compact LCD SC-ST1550-C6FT

Important Note: Be sure to check the latest system requirements for all signature devices before purchase. For the latest information on the setup or use of electronic signature pads, please contact Partner Support.

RemoteSign

The RemoteSign button initiates the remote signature process, allowing you to request a signature of a client who is not in your office. When you send a remote signature request to your client, they will receive a text message or email containing a web link. The link will require them to authenticate themselves using their last name, date of birth, last 4 digits of their SSN and zip code. Once authenticated, they will be presented with a PDF copy of their return which they can review and sign.

The screenshot shows a 'Print Final Return' dialog box with the following options:

- Select Printer: HP DeskJet 2600 series
- Status: Ready
- Where:
- Comment: [ ]
- Copies: 1
- Sign Documents with E-Signature: [ ]
- Capture Signature(s) remotely:  Email Doc  RemoteSign

- Select Pages to Print: [ ]
- Create PDF copy of the Tax Return: [ ]
- Encrypt PDF: [ ]
- Preview Return (open Print Preview): [ ]
- Email Encrypted PDF Copy of Tax Return: [ ]

After the client(s) have signed, you will receive a notification on the WIP screen. To access the signed return, click Remote Signature in the Attached Forms pane in the tax return.

Tip: Configure the TextLink feature before using the remote signing feature. For more information, please contact Partner Support.

Creating a PDF Copy of a Return

In some cases, it is useful to augment or even replace a physical printed copy of the return with an electronic copy; with the 1040 Software, it is seamless.

PDF

The PDF button creates a PDF copy of the return. Printing to PDF allows you to create a PDF copy of the tax return on your computer. The PDF file can then be emailed or copied to an external media such as a CD-ROM or flash drive.

Email

This feature allows you to easily email an encrypted (password protected) PDF copy of the tax return to the taxpayer and/or spouse using the addresses on the Client Data Sheet. When you click the Email button on the print window, you are presented with a PDF password prompt.

The screenshot shows a print window with several options. The 'PDF' button and the 'Email' button are highlighted with red boxes. The 'Encrypt PDF' checkbox is unchecked.

Queue Return for Batch Printing:	Queue
Select Pages to Print:	Filter
Create PDF copy of the Tax Return	Encrypt PDF <input type="checkbox"/>	PDF
Preview Return (open Print Preview)	Preview
Email Encrypted PDF Copy of Tax Return:	Email
Close

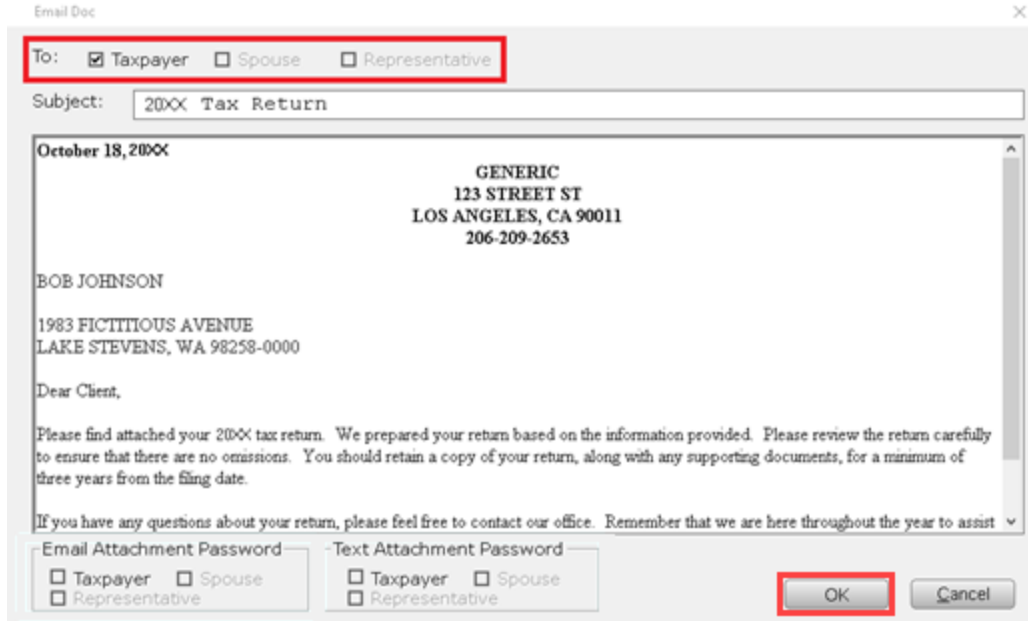

By default, the PDF password is the first four of the taxpayer's last name combined with the last four of the taxpayer's social. You can, however, change the PDF Password prompt. Once the password is entered, press the OK button. On the email window, enter the subject and body for the email that will contain the PDF attachment.

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled 'PDF Password' with a close button (X) in the top right corner. The 'PDF Password:' label is followed by a text input field containing 'JOHN0001'. Below the input field, the 'OK' button is highlighted with a red box, and the 'Cancel' button is to its right.

Note: Including the PDF password in the email that contains the tax return attachment is not recommended. Instead, use an alternate means to convey the password to the taxpayer such as text message or phone call.

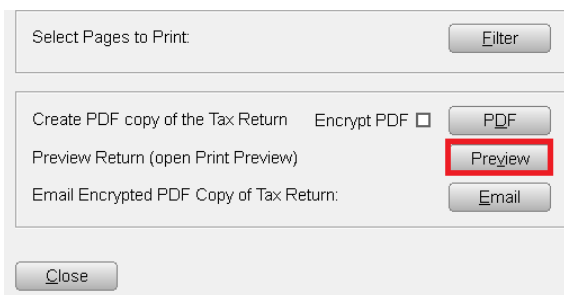

If you are certain that the taxpayer's email is correct on the Client Data click the OK button.

Tip: This feature utilizes the same configuration information as TextLink. Configure TextLink before using this feature. For more information, please contact Partner Support.

Print Preview

This option opens a preview copy of the return. Although it resembles a PDF copy, it cannot be printed or saved.

Convert a Training Return into a Live Return

Later we will be using this training return to explain the Electronic Filing process, so the return will need to be converted to a live return in the 1040 Software. To do this, follow these steps:

1. Open the training return.
2. From the return menu select Return, then Transfer Return.

3. Click on the  button, select a folder that you can easily access, then click Save and Ok. After transferring, head back to the WIP screen.
4. From the menu select Utility, then Retrieve Returns.

5. Navigate to the folder where you saved the file, click on the file, then click Open.
6. Select the return using the checkbox toward the left, then click Retrieve. Click Ok.

Congratulations!

You have successfully prepared a basic Federal and State tax return using the 1040 Software. You have also learned how to navigate through the program as well as enter taxpayer information, W-2 income and compute the Earned Income Credit.

If you followed the steps above precisely, the refund on this return would have calculated to $7,998.

There is no quiz for this chapter. In the next chapter, you will learn to prepare a more complex return using the 1040 Software. If you do not wish to complete a more complex return, skip to Chapter 4, Electronic Filing.

Note: For further practice after completing this Tutorial, be sure to refer to the Addendum to access a separate TY2021 1040 Practice Return document containing various Beginning, Intermediate and Advanced tax return scenarios.

Adding Assets

For most assets, the 1040 Software simplifies depreciation into three easy steps:

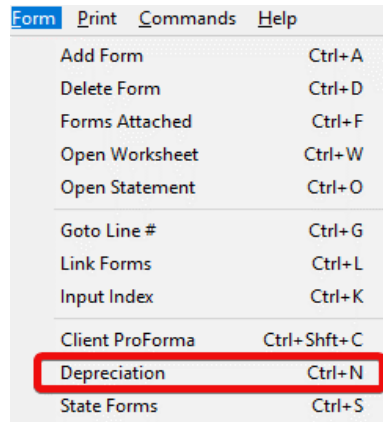

- Select the type of asset.
- Enter the date placed in service.
- Enter the cost basis of the asset.

There are two types of assets in the 1040 Software, vehicles, and everything else.

Adding a Vehicle Asset

To add a vehicle asset, follow these steps:

1. To open the Asset Manager in the 1040 Software, select Form on the menu bar and then click Depreciation. Alternatively, press Ctrl + N on your keyboard.

2. Double click on Car/Truck Vehicle Allocation.

3. The Business Activity Asset window displays a list of vehicle assets currently associated with the return. To add a new vehicle asset, click the New Asset button.

4. In the Asset Details Window Type "Toyota Tundra" into the Description field and "03/18/2019" into the Date Placed in Service. Select the Business Asset Class Code indicated below to determine the depreciation specifics for the vehicle, and then click the OK button.

ID:  Description:  Date Placed in Service:

Chapter 4 – Electronic Filing

Introduction

Chapter 4 explains the steps to electronically file a tax return.

In this chapter, you will learn how to:

- Prepare a Federal and State tax return for electronic filing.
- Use the Practitioner PIN/Form 8879

What is Electronic Filing?

When you complete a tax return, in some cases you can mail the completed return to the IRS; however, it is much more likely that you will file it electronically using your Internet connection. The IRS strongly encourages electronic filing because electronically transmitted returns can be processed quickly and more accurately than paper returns. Before submitting a return to the IRS, the 1040 Software thoroughly checks to ensure that the return is both accurate and complete. In addition to convenience, benefits of electronic filing include the following:

- Increased accuracy of the tax return. Because electronically filed tax returns are imported directly into IRS computers, there is a decreased risk of errors that might occur from transferring data by hand from a paper return. In addition, before submitting returns to the IRS, the 1040 Software checks your return to ensure that it is both accurate and complete.
- IRS acceptance of electronically filed returns. The only official proof receipt of your tax returns by the IRS is the acceptance of your electronically filed returns.
- Reduced processing time. Electronic filing ensures both quick delivery of your returns to the IRS and fast processing of any refund your client may be receiving. In addition, you can transmit returns to Central Site 24-hours a day, 7 days a week.
- Secure transmission. The 1040 Software uses encryption to ensure secure transmission of your returns.
- Tax return status. Filing electronically gives you the best available method for checking the status of your tax returns.
- Direct deposit or direct withdrawal. If filing electronically, the taxpayer can choose to have his or her refund deposited to his or her bank account, or to have any taxes owed automatically withdrawn from his or her bank account.
- Bank products. If partnered with a bank, you can also offer bank products, such as Refund Advances (Pre-Funds or Easy Advances) or Refund Anticipation Checks (RACs) to your clients. Bank products allow your fees to be deducted from the refund and deposited directly into your account. Taxpayers can have access to their refund faster than if they wait for the IRS to mail them a check.

The Electronic Filing Step-by-Step Process

1. The tax return is prepared in the 1040 Software, or the taxpayer brings you a completed (self-prepared) tax return.
2. The tax preparer selects the return for transmission and transmits it to Central Site. Central Site runs preliminary error checks to look for problems with the return.
3. Once the return is accepted by Central Site, Central Site instantaneously transmits the tax return to the IRS and/or State.
4. The IRS processes the tax return and sends you an acknowledgement file that lets you know if the return is accepted or rejected.
5. Central Site generates an IRS Acknowledgement Report and a State Electronic Filing Acknowledgement Report (if electronically filing a State tax return) that you will pick up when you transmit to Central Site.
6. If the IRS rejects the return, the IRS Acknowledgement Report lists the reason for the rejection. A rejection can be caused by something as simple as the taxpayer's Social Security number not matching his or her name. In this case, you can quickly correct the mistake and resubmit the tax return.

Practitioner PIN/Form 8879

Form 8879 allows taxpayers to enter a five-digit PIN or authorize the ERO to enter the taxpayer's PIN for them when completing Form 8879, IRS e-file Signature Authorization.

On Form 8879, the ERO enters the five-digit PIN they have chosen for their use on all e-filed returns for the entire filing season. The PIN can be any five numbers, except all zeros. The first six-digits contain the Electronic Filing Identification Number (EFIN) assigned by the IRS. The last five-digits consist of the PIN the ERO has elected to use for the filing season.

By using Form 8879, IRS e-file Signature Authorization, the IRS has provided Electronic Return Originators (EROs) with a method for a paperless electronically filed return. The ERO keeps the signed Form 8879 on file for 3 years from the date the IRS received the return.

Both the taxpayer (and the spouse when applicable) must select a five-digit PIN to use. Once the PIN is entered, it becomes the taxpayer's (and spouse's where applicable) electronic signature for the tax return. They must also sign a copy of Form 8879 for you to keep in your files and for the taxpayer to keep in his or her own files.

There are forms that disqualify the return from using Form 8879. Below are the three most common:

1. Form W7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number
2. 1040-X, Amended US Individual Income Tax Return
3. 1040NR, U.S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return

Prepare a Return for Electronic Filing

Now that you have completed a tax return, you can prepare the return for electronic filing and select the refund disbursement method. The 1040 Software makes it seamless to prepare a return for electronic filing.

To prepare the return for electronic filing:

1. From the Work In Progress Summary, press the Lookup button.

2. In the Search Criteria, Last Name or SSN box, type 400-00-0001, and then click Go.

The 'Go' button is also highlighted with a red box. There is an 'Add' button to the right. To the right of the input field is a 'Date Range Filter (MM/DD/)' section with a 'Date Created' dropdown and a 'Start' input field. Below the dialog box is a table with columns: 'Primary SSN', 'Filing Status', 'Taxpayer Name', 'Home Phone', 'Created', and 'Status'.

Chapter 6 – Refund-Based Bank Products

Introduction

This chapter explains the steps necessary to request and process the various bank product options available to your clients.

In this chapter, you will learn:

- What bank products are and how they are processed.
- How to print a refund-based bank product check.

What are Refund-Based Bank Products?

Refund-based bank products allow your fees to be deducted from the client's refund and deposited directly into your bank account and also provide a way for the client to pay for tax preparation out of the refund. Clients can have access to their refund faster than if they wait for the IRS to mail them a check. Refund-based bank products can be a profitable addition to the tax products or services you offer.

The most common bank products offered by our banking partners include:

- Refund Advance (Pre-Fund or Easy Advance) – A fast way for your clients to receive a pre-determined amount of money in advance of IRS issuing their refund at no cost to them. This pre-determined amount is set by your banking partner. If the client meets your banking partner's approval criteria, after receiving an IRS acknowledgement, your banking partner will disburse funds to your client. Depending on your banking partner, you can choose one of the following disbursement methods: Cashier's check, direct deposit, or ATM card.
- Refund Anticipation Check (RAC) –RACs are temporary accounts which wait for the client's tax refund to be deposited by the IRS. Refund anticipation check authorizations are usually made available by your banking partner within 21 days, depending on IRS processing and funding policies. When the IRS authorizes your client's refund, your banking partner will deduct all applicable fees from the refund amount and disburse the balance of the refund to your client. Depending on your banking partner, you can choose from one of the following refund disbursement methods: cashier's check, direct deposit, or ATM card.
- Tier II Check – A second refund check that is authorized when the total refund amount is greater than the initial check limit set by the participating bank. You cannot request a Tier II check disbursement; the bank determines which taxpayers receive a Tier II check.
- State RAC – If you electronically file State tax returns and your banking partner offers State refund options, this option allows the taxpayer to receive a State refund check from your office.

The Bank Product Step-by-Step Process

1. A completed tax return, with a completed bank application, is selected for transmission and transmitted it to Central Site.
2. Tax returns accepted by Central Site are transmitted to the IRS or State instantaneously.
3. The IRS and State, if applicable, process the tax return and make an acknowledgement file available that lets you know if the return was accepted or rejected.
4. When a bank product has been requested, Central Site then transmits the IRS accepted return to your selected banking partner for approval.
5. If the requested bank product is a Refund Advance, the participating bank reviews the tax return and makes available the Refund Advance check authorization or denial information. If the requested bank product is a RAC, the participating bank awaits the actual IRS funding of the refund before making the check authorization available.
6. You transmit to Central Site to pick up the check print authorization. Note: If you print checks through your banking partner's website, log on to the banking partner's website instead and follow their instructions for printing a check (and disregard steps 8 and 9 below and proceed to step 10).
7. You print the check, which equals the refund amount less your tax preparation, bank product and any other applicable fees.
8. After printing the check, you will need to transmit to Central Site which will automatically send the check print record to show the check was printed. Note: If Central Site does not have a check print record, the taxpayer may be unable to cash the check and you may not receive your fee deposit until the check has cleared the bank.
9. Central Site instantaneously transmits the check print record to the participating bank.
10. You give the client their refund-anticipation check.
11. The participating bank deposits applicable fees deducted from the refund into your bank account.
12. Central Site transmits to the participating bank to pick up any available fee deposit information. Central Site makes available the fee deposit information that you will pick up the next time you transmit to Central Site.

Prepare a Return for a Refund-Based Bank Product

Chapter 7 – Transmitting to Central Site

Introduction

This chapter covers selecting (queuing) and transmitting a tax return for transmission to Central Site, as well as selecting a return for state-only transmission to Central Site. After completing this chapter, you will be able to transmit returns to Central Site using your internet connection. During this process, all available returns selected for transmission are sent to our Central Site, and all files ready for you at Central Site, such as IRS acknowledgements or rejections, are picked up automatically.

If you will be transmitting Federal and/or State tax returns to Central Site, you should complete this chapter.

In this chapter, you will learn how to:

- Queue a tax return for transmission.
- Queue an independent State return for transmission.
- Queue a return for diagnostics.
- Transmit queued returns to Central Site.
- Transmit to Central Site without sending your queued returns.

Queuing Returns for Transmission to Central Site

Queue a Return for Transmission

Returns must be queued for transmission before they can be transmitted to Central Site. The following process will queue both a Federal and any associated State return(s) for transmission.

To queue a return for transmission:

1. On the Work In Progress Summary screen, click the Lookup button or use the Select a Return link to bring up the Lookup screen.

- In the Search Criteria, Last Name or SSN box, type 400000001 and then click Go.

- Double click the listing in the client grid to open the return.
- On the Toolbar, click the Queue button. The Queue Return for Transmission window will open.

In some instances, you may want to send a copy of a return to Central Site for technical support to inspect. Returns that are submitted for diagnostics are “suspended” and are not sent to the IRS.

The diagnostics process queues the entire return for diagnostics, regardless of what is selected to be queued.

To queue a return for diagnostics:

8. The return is now ready to be transmitted to Central Site for diagnostics.

Transmit Queued Returns to Central Site

Once you have queued a return or returns for transmission, the last step is to transmit them to Central Site. This process will transmit all queued returns to Central Site, as well as pick up any status or program updates that are available.

NOTE: Transmit option is unavailable in the demo version.

To transmit queued returns to Central Site:

1. From the Work In Progress Summary, click the Transmit button. The Transmit to Central Site window will open.

2. The Items to Send will be displayed in the Transmit to Central Site window, listing the items that will be sent during the transmission.

3. On the Transmit to Central Site window, click the Transmit button to begin transmission.

- When transmission is completed, a transmission prompt will be displayed. Click OK on this prompt.

- The Communication Results will be displayed in the Transmit to Central Site window, detailing what was sent and received from Central Site during the transmission.

- The transmission process is completed.

Transmit to Central Site without Sending Queued Returns

In some instances, you may want to transmit to Central Site, but may not wish to transmit the returns that you have queued. This process is called a “blank”, “empty” or “dry” transmission. It is useful when you want to pick up software updates, IRS acknowledgements or checks without transmitting any returns that may be queued for transmission but are not ready to be sent just yet.

NOTE: For the demo version, the Transmit option is unavailable.

To transmit to Central Site without sending queued returns:

- From the Work In Progress Summary, click the Transmit button. The Transmit to Central Site window will open. Note that there is a 1040 Tax Return listed in the Items to Send section.

2. On the Transmit to Central Site window, click the Filter... button. The Central Site Transmit Queue window will open.

3. In this window, a list of the returns that you have queued for transmission will be displayed. To prevent the returns from being transmitted, remove the check mark next to the social security number of each queued return you do not wish to transmit, or use the UnSelectAll button to uncheck them all.

Note: The queued returns will only be excluded from the next transmission to Central Site, or until the transmission window is closed. If you wish to transmit again without sending the returns, you will need to repeat this process each time.

- When finished, click the OK button. You will be returned to the Transmit to Central Site window. Note that the 1040 Tax Return no longer appears in the Items to Send section.

- Click the Transmit button to transmit to Central Site. The return will be omitted from this transmission.

Congratulations!

You have completed the chapter on transmitting returns to Central Site.

Introduction

This chapter defines terminology commonly used in the electronic filing and bank product industry.

Exercise

Familiarize yourself with the following terms and definitions:

Term	Definition
Acknowledgement	An official electronic notice from the IRS or a state tax authority that lets you know if an electronically filed tax return was accepted and considered “filed” or rejected and considered “not filed.” Acknowledgements are received by the filing center and are passed on electronically to the electronic return originator.
Additional Child Tax Credit	An additional, refundable credit for taxpayers with three or more qualifying children who cannot take the full Child Tax Credit because the taxpayer’s income tax liability is less than the maximum credit of $1,400 per child (in 2021).
Bank Product	A Refund Advance (Pre-Fund or Easy Advance) or Refund Anticipation Check (RAC)
Banking Partner	A provider of bank products for the electronic filing industry. The 1040 Software partners with three banks offering bank products: Refund Advantage, Republic Bank and Trust, and Santa Barbara Tax Products Group (TPG).
Bookmarks	Bookmarks allow you to easily attach a comment to any data field on the tax return. Essentially, a Bookmark is the electronic equivalent of a yellow sticky note and is a great way to identify fields that require taxpayer reminders, or to mark fields for further review. Bookmarks are for your use only and they do not transmit to the IRS when you file a return electronically.

Central Site	Central Site transmits your electronically filed tax returns to the IRS, as well as bank applications to the appropriate bank, and sends acknowledgements and other reports back to the electronic return originator (ERO). All electronic transmissions using the 1040 Software are sent to Central site.
Check Stock	Bank certified sheets of paper that are issued to each customer for printing checks.
Child Tax Credit	A refundable credit for taxpayers with one or more children. The maximum credit is $3600 (in 2021) per qualifying child under 6 years old and $3000 (in 2021) per qualifying child 6 years old and older. The Child Tax Credit is limited by your client's tax liability. However, clients with three or more children that cannot take the full credit because of their tax liability may qualify for the Additional Child Tax Credit.
Direct Deposit Account Number (DAN)	The deposit account number for a checking or savings account.
Direct Deposit	You can arrange for the IRS to deposit your client's tax refund directly into his or her bank account rather than mailing a check. To request a direct deposit, you must provide the IRS with your client's routing transit number, account type (checking or savings) and account number.
Earned Income Credit (EIC)	A refundable credit for low-income taxpayers with earned income. Clients who qualify for the Earned Income Credit can receive a refund even if they had little or no income tax withheld.
Electronic Filing	A method for filing tax returns over the internet with the IRS using your computer and internet connection. Electronic filing is the fastest, most secure method of filing tax returns.
Electronic Filing Identification Number (EFIN)	A unique six-digit number assigned to a business by the IRS so that the business can file returns electronically. The IRS assigns an EFIN once Form 8633 has been completed and approved.
Electronic Return Originator (ERO)	An office or person who electronically files tax returns (has an EFIN).

Fiduciary	An individual, company, or association responsible for managing another’s assets. Fiduciaries include executors of wills and estates, trustees, receivers in bankruptcy and those responsible for managing the finances of a minor.
Form 8879	A form that allows taxpayers and preparers to sign a tax return using an electronic signature by entering a five-digit PIN as a signature. The ERO keeps a signed Form 8879 on file for three years from the date the IRS accepted the return.
Forms Based Method	The method of completing a tax return in the 1040 Software by completing electronic versions of the IRS forms and worksheets.
Interest Income	Earnings on investments such as savings accounts, certificates of deposit (CD) and installment sales. Banks or other organizations or individuals who pay interest usually report it on Form 1099-INT .
Override	A method of manually changing data entry fields that are calculated by the 1040 Software . The 1040 Software allows you to override calculated values and fields, as well as Yes/No entry fields, check boxes and buttons.
Practitioner PIN Return	Allows the electronic return originator and taxpayer to sign a tax return using an electronic signature by entering a five-digit PIN.
Preparer Tax Identification Number (PTIN)	A unique identification number assigned by the IRS to each tax return preparer. PTINs expire each year on December 31 and can be renewed online at IRS.gov.
Publication 1345	An IRS handbook for electronic filers of individual tax returns that provides information on electronic filing requirements and restrictions.
Refund Advance (Pre-Fund or Easy Advance)	A fast way for your clients to receive a pre-determined amount of money in advance of IRS issuing their refund at no cost to them. This pre-determined amount is set by your banking partner. If the client meets your banking partner’s approval criteria, after receiving an IRS acknowledgement, your banking partner will disburse funds to your client. Depending on your banking partner, you can choose one of the following disbursement methods: Cashier’s check, direct deposit, or ATM card.

Refund Anticipation Check (RAC)	A quick and cost-effective way for your clients to receive their tax refunds and avoid paying for tax preparation costs upfront. Refund anticipation checks allow your clients to receive a tax refund usually within 21 days. When the IRS authorizes your client's refund, your banking partner will deduct all applicable fees from the refund amount and disburse the balance of the refund to your client. Depending on your banking partner, you can choose from one of the following refund disbursement methods: cashier's check, direct deposit, or ATM card.
Routing Transit Number (RTN)	A unique nine-digit identification number for a bank. This number is used by the banking system to route direct deposits to the correct bank.
Signature Pad (SigPad)	An electronic device with a touch sensitive LCD screen which allows the user to capture and convert a signature into an electronic format.
Site	The physical location and address of your business.
Test Return	A return prepared in the 1040 Software for test purposes and kept separate from your live returns, so it is not transmitted to the IRS.
Third Party Designee	Information electronically filed with a tax return that authorizes the IRS to discuss the tax return with a third party.
Transmission	Send and receiving tax returns, acknowledgements and other files using your computer and internet connection.
User ID	A unique number assigned to a transmitting site that identifies the location.
